

69-019 Browning-Baines House

5601 57th Avenue

Riverdale vicinity

Built in 1896, the Browning-Baines House is a two-and-one-half-story, hip-roof frame dwelling with projecting bays, bracketed cornice, and wraparound porch with turned posts and jigsawn fan brackets. It was built by the Browning family, and became the home of their associate, James E. Baines, an officer of the Browning and Baines Coffee Company.
