

80-051 Riverview Road Archeological Site (18PR131)

Fort Washington

(M-NCPPC)

Occupation between 6000 B.C. and A.D. 1300—Nomadic people lived intermittently at the Riverview Road Site from the prehistoric Archaic Period through the Woodland Period. Archeological excavations yielded remains of prehistoric stone tool manufacture, stone tools, prehistoric ceramics and hearths, as well as some historic period (eighteenth and nineteenth-century) artifacts.