

82A-017 Joshua Turner House

8801 Frank Tippet Road

Rosaryville

Built in the 1880s, the Joshua Turner House is a two-and-one-half-story, cross-gabled frame dwelling with panelled gable peaks and twentieth-century stucco covering. The interior exhibits elegant Victorian trim. This house was built for Joshua J. Turner, a Baltimore entrepreneur who specialized in agricultural fertilizers. It is significant as the country house of a successful businessman, and for its fine Queen Anne decorative detail.
