

82A-019 Boys' Village of Maryland Cemetery

Frank Tippet Road and Surratt's Road

Cheltenham

Boys' Village of Maryland was one of the earliest and largest juvenile detention and reformation centers established as the "House of Reformation and Instruction for Colored Boys;" Enoch Pratt of Baltimore was the main benefactor of the institution. Dating from 1870 and onward, this cemetery has concrete and granite grave markers laid out in three sections and is currently located within Cheltenham Veterans' Cemetery adjacent to the Boys' Village property.
