

An aerial photograph of a residential neighborhood. A red diamond marker is placed on the roof of a white building in the upper-middle section. A cyan rectangle highlights a specific area in the center, encompassing several buildings and parking lots. The surrounding area includes various residential buildings, parking lots, and streets. The image is oriented horizontally, with the top of the frame showing the top of the buildings and the bottom showing the bottom. The red diamond is located on a white building, and the cyan rectangle is a large, irregular shape. The image is a high-resolution aerial view, showing details of the buildings and the ground. The red diamond is a small, bright red shape, and the cyan rectangle is a thin, light blue line. The image is a clear, high-quality photograph, with no visible text or other markings. The overall scene is a typical residential area, with a mix of buildings and open space. The red diamond and cyan rectangle are the primary features of interest in the image.
